Taccia Small

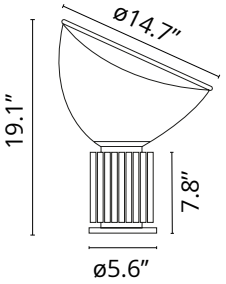

Designed by Achille and Pier Giacomo Castiglioni, 1962

16W - 2700K

Table lamp emitting indirect and reflected light. Aluminium reflector, gloss white on the outside and matt white on the inside, mounted on an adjustable transparent mouth-blown glass diffuser. Body in black, matt white, silver anodised or bronze anodised aluminium with a nickel-plated metal base. Equipped with a dimmer for 10–100% adjustment. Plug-in power supply with interchangeable plugs included.

Designed by Achille and Pier Giacomo Castiglioni in 1962, Taccia Small reinterprets one of the most iconic symbols of Italian design in a more compact format. Originally conceived by the idea of turning a ceiling lamp upside down, its crafted reflector and distinctive grooved base remain true to the original design. Preserving the Castiglionis' industrial roots and minimalist vision, Taccia Small brings the timeless character of the original to a wider range of interiors.
